Italy's energy storage market is experiencing rapid growth. With the phase-out of coal, the dispatchable fleet now relies almost entirely on natural gas, which becomes a structural weakness of the country. This, coupled with the need to integrate more renewable energy, has driven the Italian energy storage market to enter a period of rapid expansion. Energy storage analysts at TrendForce said that the energy storage market in Italy is expected to enter the peak period of large storage grid connection in the second half of the year.
