Energy Efficiency: Energy consumption is a major expense in oil and gas plants as well as in power plants. Efsan Solution: With process-specific aerodynamic optimizations and inverter (VFD) control systems, we reduce energy consumption and operating costs by ensuring that our fans operate with the highest efficiency at full load and part load. What materials are used in efsan fans? Efsan Solution: We manufacture fans from materials with high corrosion resistance such as special alloyed stainless steels (e.g. AISI 316L, Duplex, Super Duplex), Hastelloy or Inconel. We extend fan life by using special chemical-resistant coatings and sealing elements. Why should you choose efsan fans? High Temperature and Pressure: Applications such as process heaters, reactors and flare systems require fans to operate at high temperature and pressure differentials. Efsan Solution: Using high temperature resistant materials and special cooling mechanisms, we design fans with stable performance even under extreme conditions.
